THE HEALTH AND SUCCESS OF ANY COMMUNITY IS TIED TO THE STABILITY OF ITS FAMILIES

In the Roanoke Valley region, more than 40% of hard-working families are struggling to meet their most basic needs of food, housing, transportation, and childcare. They are often forced to make impossible choices, such as whether to pay rent or purchase medication to manage an illness. Their decisions can have painful, long-term consequences for all. That's why United Way's community partners work together to stabilize families during times of crisis and connect them to opportunities for long-term success.

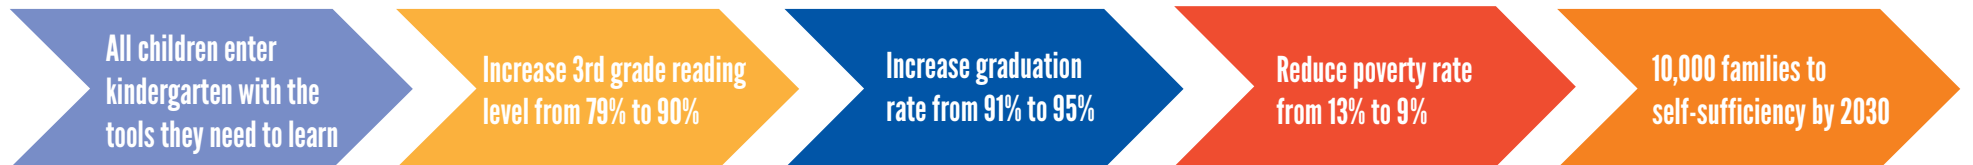

Working together, community collaborations provide a continuum of support for the education, health, and financial stability of every member of the household.
