

A fresh start

Christine never thought she'd end up homeless.
So she hit the ground running.

Christine was staying in a hotel after leaving her home abruptly, fleeing domestic violence. When COVID-19 hit, though, she lost her hours at work, and found herself homeless. So, she hit the pavement with new resolve. She was determined to find a new job, and secured an interview, but didn't have an appropriate outfit to wear to the meeting when her money ran out.

Thanks to United Way funds, Christine got an interview outfit – and a new job! She's finally safe and secure, living on her own.
